

SHEREEN HUBER
WHERE International Fashion Incubators Conference Dinner
DRESS From Manikinn
NECKLACE From France
BAG Forever New
SHOES Jeffrey Campbell
MY STYLE Feminine with an edge

STM CONFIDENTIAL

BY WENDY CACCETTA AND HALEY THOMPSON
 caccettaw@sundaytimes.newsltd.com.au

One Aussie met a calvacade of stars in New York, while we find out why Scary Spice is hitting PFF.

FAMOUS FACES

Award-winning WA documentary maker Lincoln Fenner – who has been described as Australia's answer to Michael Moore – bumped into just about everyone on his trip to New York.

Fenner's star networking saw him photographed with Scarface actor Steven Bauer, The Way We Were actress Sally Kirkland, The Deer Hunter actor John Savage and The Scorpions musician Ralph Rieckermann.

He even bumped into Australian television personality Rove McManus at LA Airport en route to New York. When McManus heard Fenner's

01 BETTY TRAN AND ANIQUE BALDOCK

01 CHELSEA FRASER-GRANT

01 FASHION INCUBATORS

Delegates from 20 countries were in Perth for the third international conference of Fashion Incubators, an initiative to nurture and support up-and-coming designers. At the gala dinner, guests watched new season collections hit the runway, including local labels Leanne Lim, Hue Le and Cinderocker. Among the guests were Susan Langdon, Ali Charisma and Sheelagh Wright.